The University
HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

THE LANDS OF THE ABOVE-NAMED ASSOCIATION are situated in San Francisco and are slightly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society, on which College buildings are to be at once erected. The site is less than thirty minutes ride from Montgomery street, lying just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading, there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore, and has a soil of extreme richness. So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon.

The Rev. E. Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L. Robinson, formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas B Lowis, formerly of Portland, Secretary.

Four lots, 25x120 feet each, constitute a share, costing $315—paid in monthly installments of $10 each, after the first payment of $20 has been made.

Maps and books giving full information of the workings of the Association can be obtained at the store of J. L. PARRISH & CO.

It is an easy and a cheap way for young men to procure property which will in a few years make them independent.

PIONEER WASHER.
JAMES BRUSIE,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE is now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It is easily worked by one person.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

The undersigned is now in the city of Portland, where he can be seen at Mr. O. Kilhourn's Store, corner of Front and Yamhill Sts., East side, Portland, and is prepared to furnish the Machine to purchasers and also to sell and dispose of County Rights for the sale of the same.

The following mining items are from the Lewiston Journal of the 18th inst..

FROM PIERCE CITY.

Expressman Fettis and H. Ankeny, Esq., left Pierce City on Monday morning at seven, and rode through, a distance of 85 miles to Lewiston, before the sun set, Monday evening. We think they made a little the quickest trip which has been made.

They report that Carty, who was stabbed by Craig, was but just alive when they left. No hope of his recovery. Craig had his examination before a magistrate and was discharged. The circumstances developed, showed that Carty made the attack on Craig, entirely without provocation, that Craig retreated and lost his hat in getting away. Returning to secure his hat, Carty attacked him the second time, striking him one or two blows, whereupon Craig drew his knife and stabbed Carty. Craig had not spoken to or interfered with Craig in the least till after he was assaulted with blows.

Carty was in liquor and endeavoring to get up a quarrel with several parties.

Some parties have been washing and cleaning up from their claims with good success. Most of the parties were either hydraulicing or ground sluicing. About one hundred white men and five hundred Chinamen were in the camp, and more going in. The prospects of the camp were highly flattering.

ELK CITY.

Messenger Fairchild left Elk City on Monday, and arrived here on Wednesday. He reports mining very brisk in that camp. Fifteen hydraulics were in full blast, about 150 men in the camp, and the prospects of the camp never looked better for a rich harvest of gold than the present season.

At Newsome creek were about twenty Americans and many Chinamen, all doing well. At Clearwater station were about 75 Americans and 150 Chinamen, all doing well.

The mining at all these stations is conducted with more system now than ever before, and the belief is that more money to the hand will be realized than ever before since the recovery of the camp.

For about sixteen miles over the Big mountain, from two to five feet of snow yet lies on the trail. The road elsewhere is in good condition. Crops on Camas Prairie and along the foot-hills do not yet appear to be affected by dry weather; but rain would be very welcome to the whole upper country just at this time.

THE WESTERN TOWN ELECTIONS.—The Charter elections in Ohio generally exhibit Republican gains. In Toledo the Republicans succeeded in electing every one of their candidates on the city ticket, and ten of the twelve Councilmen. This city last spring elected as Councilmen a majority of Democrats, and the straight Democratic city ticket. At Cleveland all the Republican city candidates, except the nominee for Mayor, who was defeated, were elected by from 200 to 600 majority. The Leader asserts the election of the Democratic Mayor by fraud. It says that in the Fifth Ward the Democratic vote was 739, or 122 more than were polled for both candidates for Mayor a year ago. The total vote was 1,087, while there are not 900 legal voters in the Ward. In Dayton (the home of Vallandigham) the election resulted in the success of the whole Republican city ticket, by majorities ranging from 150 to 600. The average Union majority on the city ticket is 400; last spring it was 268; so that the Union gain is 132. A full vote would have shown 300 gain. The Council stands nine Union and seven Democrats. In Ravenna the Union ticket was elected without opposition.

A dispatch to Cincinnati from Chicago on the 3d, says that Keokuk, Iowa, elected Republican city officers. It has usually gone Democratic.

Returns from Michigan show that the Republicans have carried the State by about the usual majority. The vote was very light, and there was no excitement whatever. In the Milwaukie charter election the Republicans gained two Councilmen.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.—In some extraordinary discoveries which have recently been made in England in the construction of the magnetic battery, it has been demonstrated that by their means a light more intense and continuous than any hitherto discovered can be produced at a marvelously small cost. Experiments made with a machine built for the lighting of a large manufactory, showed something like an expense of one cent per hour. Some idea may be formed of the intensity of the light itself when we state that when brought to bear in full force on a piece of metal, at a distance of fifty yards, it fused it completely. For photographic purposes it has been proved to be far superior to sunlight. It is stated that all that is required for the perfect illumination of a large city is a tower tall enough to project the light to every portion of it, and strong enough to stand the concussion of the powerful wheel machinery employed. The ultimate success of the magnetic light has never been doubted by scientific minds; but here is a result far exceeding any anticipations that had been formed.

MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES IN OHIO.—The annual statistical report of Ohio shows that the State is somewhat given to marriage. 30,000 marriages were solemnized during the year, being 5,000 more than any preceding year, and 8,000 more than in 1860. In 1863, in the midst of the war, the number of marriages had decreased to 19,300. The increased proportion of marriages was almost altogether in the rural districts, and does not appear in the statistics of counties containing large cities. Many counties increased 50 per cent., while the great counties of Hamilton and Cuyahoga reached an increase of 25 per cent. The estimated number of marriages for 1867 is 1 per cent. of the population. While so many are joining their fortunes under the auspices of Hymen, the dissatisfied experimenters in that direction who succeeded in obtaining a legal dissolution of the marriage contract were 1,160, an increase of 25 per cent. on the preceding year.

CURE OF HYDROPHOBIA.—The Indianapolis Journal says the daughter of Harvey Eiler, residing near that city, was taken with violent symptoms of hydrophobia, having been bitten by a rabid dog, and adds:

Dr. Rooker determined to try the effect of bromide of potassium, which had been recommended by some European physician. It was at once administered, and the treatment steadily kept up till nearly two ounces had been given. The fits occurred less frequently and with less severity. The unfortunate lady ceased biting herself, and had sufficient knowledge of her situation to wrap her arms up tightly in the bed clothes when she felt the spasm coming on, to keep them out of danger. Though very far from being out of danger, the abatement of the symptoms has been so decided as to create some hope of her recovery, which, if realized, will make this one of the most remarkable cases on record.

Nobleman by title do not always present a very noble appearance. The present Duke of Buckingham, for instance, is an unusually common looking person. The following anecdote will convey some idea of the impression he is apt to produce on strangers: He called one morning at a subordinate office of the Northwestern Railway Company, of which he is President, on business; the officer there had advertised for some porters, and when the Duke came in he thought him an applicant for a porter's place, and said "My man, it's no use for you to apply—you're not big enough nor strong enough." Yet his father was one of the handsomest and what is called "aristocratic" looking men of his time.

There lives in the southeast portion of Camden, Lorain county, Ohio, a Mrs. Polly Hopkins, who is one hundred and fifteen years of age. When the British fleet landed in New Bedford, Connecticut, she and her parents were obliged to quit their home—she traveling on foot, and carrying a feather bed twenty miles the first day.

The latest style of bonnet has just made its appearance. It is called the "Revenue Cutter" and consists of a two cent internal revenue stamp, worn on the top of the head and tied under each ear with a shoe-string. It presents a very p

FRIDAY MORNING MAY 24 1867

"Hounded Through Life"

We alluded a day or two since to a patriot who gave his life for his country, as the "lamented I I Stevens This allusion the Herald thinks was prompted by hyena instincts,' and holds it up in horror as an example of the manner in which the Radicals violate the graves and feed upon the remains of the illustrious dead whom they have hounded through life! We spoke of Gov Stevens in a most respectful manner the Herald objects to our language as atrocious How would it have our fallen heroes spoken of? Its Democratic friends who imbrued their traitorous hands in the blood of our bravest and best, could probably speak of them in language more to the Herald's liking

As to the assertion that the "Radicals hounded Stevens through life' Among his best friends during the critical period of 1855-56, were many of the very men whom the Herald now speaks of as 'Radicals" These men supported him during the trying crisis of the Indian war, when he need all support more than at any other period of his career And who was against him? Chief among those who were hounding after him for the course he had taken was Frank Clark, the present Democratic candidate for Congress from Wassington Territory! This man attacked Gov Stevens with all the malignancy of his nature, and employed every means his evil disposition could suggest to increase the difficulties of Stevens' position and to throw a mountain of accumulated obstacles in his way This man, Frank Clark, was one of those who hounded Stevens through life! This man, Frank Clark was the leader of the yelping pack! This man, Frank Clark, who was denounced by Gov Stevens' own paper as one of those who were "yelping like bloodhounds at his heels!" Hounded, indeed! We must thank the Herald for reviving that word. But would it not be well for the editor of that paper to learn something of the political history of this part of the country before assuming to be an oracle in these matters, and not undertake to make shameless assumptions and impudent inveracity supply the place of authentic information?

That paper also has the effrontery to talk about Stevens' "Democratic supporters" At the beginning of the rebellion he had no Democratic supporters except those who joined the Union party, and resolved with him that traitors should be put down The Democratic party of Washington Territory did not follow Gov Stevens in his patriotic course after the rebellion began,—did not sanction his noble resolve to fight treason down It refused to rise with him to the height of this grand purpose, and through the whole struggle sympathized with and did what it could to uphold the cause of those against whom Stevens and his compatriots fought Talk about the "Democratic supporters" of any one who gave or perilled his life for the Union! They were good "Democrats" who took the lives of such patriots as Baker, Stevens and Kearney, they are good "Democrats' still, and will vote a "Democratic" ticket as long as they live. Copperheads of course don't like such talk as this; but they will be compelled to hear it while the remembrance of their actions during the four years struggle shall hold a place in the minds of men.

Let Union Men be Vigilant.

It is the imperative duty of the Union Republican party to keep its organization compact and perfect so that it may be prepared for the great campaign which will begin within a year from this time Every member of that party should be ready to do his whole duty, and to make efforts similar to those which have given us triumphs in times past The Presidential election will be at hand almost before we know it; and it must be carried by that party which, by saving the country through war, has vindicated its right to administer the Government in the succeeding era of peace Intelligent Union men will not be deceived by the assertion that no danger could follow the restoration of the Democratic party In what instance has that party renounced the principles which gave rise to the rebellion? We look in vain in its platforms, in its newspapers and in the speeches of its recognized leaders, for such renunciation. On the contrary, these doctrines are often specifically reaffirmed, and we are told on all hands that the Democratic party still adheres to its old policy Everybody remembers how Buchanan interpreted Democratic principles His party to-day interprets them precisely in the same way. Except in New England and New York, where for prudential reasons they adroitly continue to keep this fact out of view, they boast of their devotion to the old principles, and take delight in owning their old colors Last month a Convention composed of choice spirits of the party assembled at Cincinnati and resolved to adhere to the old secession fashion They reiterated the doctrine of State sovereignty in a manner that implies the right of secession, and pronounced their adherence to the general policy which their party pursued during Buchanan's Administration and throughout the rebellion Vallandigham is out in a fresh letter reiterating the same doctrines The Democratic press of the great Western States, emboldened by the Connecticut victory, renews its former utterances. That party is as dangerous to the peace of the country as it ever has been Its policy has not changed It does not give up its old doctrines which, as experience has shown, are inimical to the peace of the country and subversive of the very principles on which our form of government is based Would it not be most unwise then to allow it to regain power? It is working with unusual activity, and hence there is there is the greater need for Union men to work energetically to counterrail its efforts In every town and county the Union organization should be preserved In every municipal election the lines should be drawn. Let good natured persons say what they will against raising party issues in local elections, it is an undeniable truth that this is the only way by which the strength of a party can be maintained

We all remember the time (for it was less than a year ago) when a war of races was predicted as the result of equal political rights Everybody of sense know that these doleful utterances were merely old wives' fables, and the result has actually proved them to have been such. The following statement of the natural alliance between the intelligent colored population and the "Virginia gentlemen' shows how absurd was the theory that political rights to the blacks would create a war of races The paragraph is from the Richmond Examiner

The intelligent colored men of this city, and of the State know as well as any persons in the world who have been their friends for years past, and are not now disposed to put their trust in men who abused them as thieves and scoundrels when they were slaves, and who now pretend to be their peculiar friends and champions. They know that there can be no antagonism between themselves and the Virginia gentlemen with whom they were raised, with whom they have associated and by whom they have been supported and cared for from their birth There is not and can be any hostility between the gentlemen of this country and their former slaves. They have a community of interest that should prompt them to act in concert when matters of as much moment to both are involved as are in the coming elections.

The great serpents of Africa, before they swallow a victim, are said to cover it all over with slime, to make the process of deglutition as easy as possible The Democratic party is imitating these tactics in its treatment of the negro It has determined to swallow him if the thing is possible and to make him "go down" it is covering him with the slime of hypocritical praise For a specimen of the process see New York World, Chicago Times, and divers Southern Democratic journals

Rev Mr Earle at Virginia City —This great revivalist has produced a profound sensation at Virginia City by his ministrations Alluding to a sermon preached by him on Sunday morning last the Trespass says

It was one of uncommon tenderness—scarcely a dry eye in the house Stalwart men were melted under his winning representations of the truth.

His sermon in the evening is thus described by the same paper

The church was crowded inside and out by assembled multitudes, no effort for excitement no strange or startling statements or eccentricities of manner but the simple, conclusive setting forth of the subject brought the whole mass almost without an exception, to their feet in the most solemn testimony of a fixed purpose to cherish the interest which each felt in his personal salvation The community seemed to be there almost in a body, and yet so thoughtful and quiet that had there been a clock in the church, its ticking could have been heard

The Trespass refers to his exhortation on another occasion as follows

At the conference meeting the church was well filled, though multitudes had to leave. Scores of men and women, heads of families, husbands and wives, came forward for prayer Many submitted to Christ on the spot

Submission —The New Orleans News says that the difficulty now is to find opponents not supporters, of the policy of submission The idea of passive resistance has also been abandoned It remarks

All now unite in agreeing to act under this act of Congress, in faithful compliance therewith and striving to ward off or moderate its hardships by a proper exercise of all the lawful and constitutional influences and agencies we can bring to bear upon the Administration and Executive of the land and by an example of good faith patience and strict conformity to law to disarm our adversaries, who could not be better pleased than by our resistance or even our languid submission thereto Among the many ardent and earnest and even ultra advocates of and participants in the late rebellion, we have yet to find one who can reconcile it to his duty and manhood to stand aloof from the obligations and responsibility which are now imposed on him to give his aid to his fellow citizens in the reorganization of our Government under the only plan left to us As illustrative of the temper of gentlemen of this class, we take pleasure in referring to the motion of Gen Grey, in our Senate who, when other Senators of less pronounced views in the matter were in doubt as to the proper course to promptly took the bull by the horns, and moved the repeal of the Convention Bill

The New York Times, in discussing the injunction cases which were lately heard by the Supreme Court, has the following remarks on this last effort and resort of rebeldom

The effrontery of the spectacle is as notable as its novelty In any other country the parties to these proceedings would have figured before the law in a totally different character They would, long ere now, have been required to answer for their lives as rebels awaiting punishment Here, there has been no punishment The chief executive of the rebellion has indeed been held in confinement, but there is no more likelihood of his being punished than of his being canonized as saint and martyr; while the associate managers of the late conspiracy have been permitted to return in quiet to their homes, to resume, in most cases, possession of their property, and to participate in political discussion as unreservedly as though nothing unusual had happened And now, by way of climax, some of those men actually enter the Supreme Court as contestants of the law making power, and complainants in a case made up to defeat by legal quirks and quibbles the right of the people who put down the rebellion to insure the substantial products of their victory However the case shall end, the facts we have recited form a conclusive answer to the general charge of cruelty and oppression which unrepentant rebels never tire of repeating

The West Point (Ga) Gazette publishes the following letter from Hon Reverdy Johnson, written at Washington under date of March 25th, and addressed to B T Custollaw, Esq

Dear Sir —Yours of the 18th is received. My vote for the bill you refer to was given, not because I approved of it, but because I knew that if defeated, or not carried out by the South, other means, ruinous to them in every way, would follow I wished by my vote (hoping that the South would not doubt my desire to serve them and the whole country) to place myself in a condition to advise them more effectually to its acceptance than I would be if I had voted against it My advice, therefore, is—and I give it most anxiously—that the proper course to be pursued by you is to organize under the act at once and in good faith

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
REVERDY JOHNSON

A letter from Toulon says The terrible effects produced by the submarine torpedoes of Vice Admiral De Chabannes have made known a detail of which we were completely ignorant, but which was made known to the Americans during the late war After the explosion of one of these infernal machines, the men who, not having been instantly killed, strove to save themselves in the midst of the flooding wreck of their vessel, had all, without exception, the vertebral column broken by the violence of the concussion. None escaped, and those who had not perished by fire or water succumbed after a few days of dreadful agony

It is related that when a Southerner in Congress declared to him that South Carolina would secede, Mr. Simon Cameron replied: "Then I shall live to raise corn in the streets of Charleston" The Southerner was Jefferson Davis The Harrisburg Telegraph comments on the foregoing "We have in this office an ear of corn raised from General Cameron's planting in the streets of Charleston"

Our old friend, Borish Brown, is getting along like a constitutional brick, in Oregon. We shall never forget the physical aspect of poor Brown, on a certain memorable occasion, when his long legs were doing their very best at precipitate locomotion, and his general outward man resembled Ichabod Crane, pursued by the Galloping Hessian Hyperborean neighbor, "wan't them good ole days"—Flag

A traveler, perceiving two crows flying side by side, exclaimed: "Ay, that is just as it should be: I hate to see one crow over another."

AS IS THE CUSTOM.—The people of Oregon still maintain their reputation for close and careful dealing, and as a matter of course buy their CLOTHING and DRY GOODS of KOHN & FISHEL, at the old stand of Weil Bros., Front Street, having become satisfied that the best bargains can be secured at this place, and that these gentlemen have, as usual one of the largest and most complete stocks in the market

PERFECTLY SATISFIED.—Every one that visits BUCHTEL'S PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY, comes away perfectly satisfied with their bargains. The highest style of the art is reached in the beautiful Sun Pearls and Photographs.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the refining and commercial value of bullion
Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS

One-eighth of one per cent (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600, and two dollars for any smaller sum Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS

Two dollars for the gold contained up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 300 @ 600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce
On bullion from 600 @ 750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce
On bullion from 750 @ 840 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce
Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars

FOR COINING GOLD

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY EIGHT HOURS

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint
Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates
Dust and bullion can also be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express

CHARGES AT U S BRANCH MINT

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at the Institution:
For refining bullion under 300 parts gold 3 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 300 @ 600 parts gold 5 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 600 @ 750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 750 @ 830 parts gold 11 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 830 @ 940½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce
The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same
Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ½ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage
860 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
846 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents — mh24p3m

ANNEXATION TO THE UNITED STATES.—The newspapers of Victoria have of late been discussing the question of annexation of British Columbia to the United States, with a seriousness which indicates that the people are not only talking but thinking earnestly about the policy of the movement. The News of the 18th has a long editorial article on this question in which after stating how completely the colony is at the mercy of the United States Government, occurs the following language

"We do not favor annexation because we dislike our own country or the flag under which we were born. Far from it. Our love for our Queen, and the country which gave us birth, is as strong as that of any man's, but we owe a duty to our neighbors, our family, ourselves, and the country we have chosen as our future home, and convinced, as we are, that so long as this country continues under the sovereignty of Great Britain, just so long will it continue under a cloud of political and commercial gloom, we have determined to lay aside all feeling of national pride and devote our best energies to the work of reducing the Imperial Government to accept any friendly overtures that may have been made by the Government of the United States for the transfer of this colony to the American Union. We know that the American Government is anxious to obtain it, and it is no exaggeration of public sentiment to say that nine men out of every ten from Victoria to Big Bend and Cariboo are strongly in favor of the proposition. * * * British rule has had its trial, and has proved a most sad and signal failure. Like a hot-house plant it flourished for a short season, and then drooped and withered. The red-tape circumlocution of Downing street, with its concomitants of feathers and gold lace, are not indigenous in this part of the world—the atmosphere of Republicanism is too powerful for plants of aristocratic growth to take deep root in British Columbia soil. The pageantry of royalty is by far too expensive a luxury to command respect or veneration from a people who measure the worth of political institutions by a golden standard and not because of their antiquity. * * *

A correspondent of the same paper uses the following language: Some few months ago a public meeting was held here with a view of ascertaining the public sentiment on the subject of annexation of this section of the colony to the United States. The meeting was then premature, events having so proved it. Would there be at the present time a different result if a meeting were now called? Scarcely one, I venture to say, among even the British community. What I propose sir, is this. Call a public meeting of the British residents, and elicit from them the measures they would propose to remedy the miserable, heart-rending, deplorable condition to which the country and its inhabitants are reduced. The suggestion is a loyal one, and if no other means present themselves but that of annexation, that in itself is a loyal proposition. Let a petition arising from the public meeting be freely circulated, and I am confident that nine out every ten of the British inhabitants throughout the Colony will sign it. * * * Continuous will be popularized, roads created, and half the world civilized by the presence of the United States on the Pacific, and for us to remain in an isolated section, (which, heaven knows is favored with sufficient in itself to make a country great forgotten, neglected, and if not contemptuously treated,) unconsciously so. Let us take a dispassionate look at what we are suggesting. We would in the first instance, by the exchange of flag and nationality, have no restriction duties; we could ship and tranship our commodities, with fair and honorable competition with other favored sections of a great country, similar institutions, the same language, and a diversified field for enterprise and energy. There would be no fear of international vexed questions arising to retard or prevent the development of the country's great resources, and though last not least, means would be opened for every honest and industrious man to provide the necessaries of life for his family.

THE FLOUR IN THE GREAT MARKETS.—We are permitted to publish the following extracts from a letter to a leading firm of this city from San Francisco:

"The Imperial flour is making progress in the estimation of consumers as well as in trade generally. * * * On the 13th, Mr. —— telegraphed to a house of high standing in Philadelphia that he had shipped 1,000 bbls of White extra flour, on board the clipper ship Seminole, which he would place to their credit. He received as answer yesterday that they would take the said 1,000 bbls at the figures mentioned. You will see by this transaction what the advantage is to have a good reputation established for a brand here. Before all the flour had left the mill in Oregon City, it was booked as purchased in Philadelphia."

We may add in this connection that a gentleman, long well at in Portland and lately in San Francisco, while there, had a conversation with the head miller of the Willamette mills, in which the latter admitted the superiority of several of the Oregon brands, and that to bring California brands up to this it would be necessary to mix Oregon wheat with California grain. This is an honest confession from a California miller of a fact of which we may well be proud, and which California papers periodically and carefully labor to conceal. The fact is Oregon is just now getting pretty well ahead of the hounds, and we must be pardoned if we toot our horn ample enough to hit our big sister's ear.

OIL MACHINERY COMING.—We learn that the complete mill for an oil mill ordered from the East by C. M. Cartwright, of Salem, is now on the way out and expected soon to arrive. Capt. Kellogg informs us that Mr. Cartwright has sent word that he will be down to Oregon City on the 1st of July next, for the purpose of selecting a site for a mill in that place. There are some parties in Oregon City who are interested in the project. Whether Mr. Cartwright has concluded to transfer the location of his mill from Salem to Oregon City, or whether this contemplated mill at Oregon City is in addition to the one at Salem and an independent enterprise, we are unable to say; but, for certain reasons, we are led to believe that the design is to put in operation a mill at each place. The crop of flax seed, this season, raised at the instance of Mr. Cartwright, will be large, and will probably furnish stock for both to run two mills, from the time they can be got in operation, till another crop shall be gathered.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Yesterday, in the Recorder's Court, the following proceedings were had:

Robert Sutherland was tried and found guilty on a charge of indecently exposing his person, and was fined $5 and costs; judgment arrested till this morning.

There were five charges against A. Anderson; drunk and disorderly conduct; fined $5, in default of which, five days in jail; on the charge of resisting an officer, he got two days in jail; for carrying a concealed weapon, two days in jail; for an assault and battery on officer Townsend, five days in jail, for an assault and battery on officer Hudson, five days in jail.

Wm. Wilson was charged with resisting an officer and attempting a rescue of a prisoner, but was discharged.

CARD.—Dr. E. Y. Chase, U. S. A., and wife arrived by the Montana, having been in the Atlantic States since the spring of 1865. Dr. Chase was formerly a surgeon in the Volunteer army, with the rank of Major, and after seeing much service in the East during the last three years of the war, was sent out to this Department in 1864 and served here till the following spring, when he was ordered back again to the East. We learn that he will be ordered to service at either San Juan Island or Fort Steilacoom. The Dr. is widely and favorably known on this coast, and there are very many personal friends who will warmly welcome both him and his wife on seeing them again.

MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA.—We have received a copy of the Daily News and Herald (Savannah, Georgia) of April 19th, in which we find an item detailing the incidents of a visit to the rice plants'one about the city, and containing the following allusion to a well known citizen of Portland: "Among the passengers were Col. A. L. Harris, acting Postmaster, and Colonel Quincy A. Brooks, of Oregon, Special Agent of the Post office Department for the Pacific Coast. The latter has not been east of the Rocky Mountains before for sixteen years, and this was his first visit to rice plantations."

THE PIXLEY CONCERT.—The first appearance of the Pixley family, in Portland, was greeted last evening by only a fair house; but the performances, during the short time we were present, were very favorably received by the auditors. The girls are rather pretty and of very pleasant presence. The characteristic pieces by Miss Annie and Miss Virginia were very well rendered, and were encored repeatedly. The latter has an excellent alto voice, and does it quite well for one so young. The concert will be repeated to-night with a general change of programmes. We take the liberty of suggesting that the audience will be better pleased by an adherence to the published programmes, and with shorter waits between the pieces.

A MATCH GAME OF BASE BALL.—The Occidental Base Ball Club, of Vancouver, having challenged the Pioneer Club of this city, a match game has been arranged, to be played at Vancouver on the 29th inst., between the 1st nine of each club. The game will doubtless excite a great deal of interest, not only among members of the two clubs most directly interested, but among all the clubs of the State, and will probably be only the first of a series of match games, to be played during the season. We will warn the Occidentals, in advance, that they have undertaken a salty old job.

A RUMOR RUN DOWN.—A rumor reached us yesterday that Kersting, the prisoner confined in the county jail on the charge of murder, had escaped. After chasing the rumor up and down the city, we learned that it was ground' and probably originated from a telegram to Sheriff Sutton from Salem, announcing the escape of a penitentiary convict, bearing the following description; "short, thick set, has but one eye, dark complexion—Englishman."

HEAVY CASTINGS.—The Oregon Iron Works have been for two or three days loading a lot of heavy castings on board a barge, to be taken to Oswego for the Iron Co at that place. The work consists of a very large cogged driving wheel, shafts, a heavy walking beam, balance wheel, pinions, large, heavy plates, and a great number of smaller pieces. For excellence of workmanship and finish it would be difficult to find work superior to this lot.

CONTRACT TO BUILD A BRIDGE.—We learn that Messrs. Cox & Snyder have a contract to erect over Tanner creek in this city, a bridge, on the plan of Cox's suspension model, of which we made mention some time ago. The contract, as we understand it, is between those gentlemen and persons residing adjoing the ravine where the proposed bridge is to be erected.

LT. SPENCER.—A letter to a gentleman of this city, from Lt. W. V. Spencer, announces his arrival at New York on the 12th of April, in good health. It is understood that his regiment, the 13th U S Infantry, now has been ordered to service at either San Juan Island or Fort Steilacoom. The Dr. is widely and favorably known on this coast, and there are very many personal friends who will warmly welcome both him and his wife on seeing them again.

We take the liberty of suggesting that the audience will be better pleased by an adherence to the published programmes, and with shorter waits between the pieces.

IDAHO CITY BURNED.—Mr Briggs, of Wells, Fargo & Co, received a telegram yesterday afternoon, from San Francisco, stating that Idaho city was burned on the 18th. It is a somewhat singular coincidence that the great fire of 1865 which destroyed nearly the entire town, occurred on the 18th of May.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Senator, from Oregon City, Thursday, May 23d: 7 sacks feather, 249 gunnies bacon, 20 boxes produce, 2 boxes eggs, 69 bbl bbls dried apples, 74 bags wheat, 5 bales woolen goods, 1 box butter, 150 qr sks flour, 30 boxes apples, 29 sks oats, 21 bags feed.

CHANGE OF STEAMER DAYS.—It will be seen by our dispatches that we are no longer to have a steamer every week. The Orifiamme will not sail till next Tuesday, and there will be only one steamer every ten days.

FOR EUGENE CITY.—Upon the arrival of the steamer Senator at Oregon City, on Saturday, a boat will start from the basin, for Eugene City and intermediate landings.

TREASURE RECEIPTS.—Wells, Fargo & Co received $11,-900 in treasure by the Cascade boat yesterday.

MESSAGE UNCALLED FOR.—There is a message in the telegraph office for J. H. Kittrell.

FOR GENTLEMEN'S WHITE SHIRTS, OF THE STAR BRAND, we would advise you to go to the Box Brim; also, for the best assortment of Ladies and Gents' Kid Gloves.

HARD TIMES AND WORSE COMING.—The fact of hard times is impressing itself on the mind of every man in Oregon. The fact is, however, somewhat palliated, by the fact that clothing can be bought at Barman Bros. at prices within every man's means. People of the interior counties can save money by purchasing at Barman Bro.'s Salem clothing store under charge of Mr Barman.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—From and after this day the well-known FRENCH LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT will serve a first-class table at the reduced price of Seven Dollars per week.

"THE COLORS FOR HER."—That is what every lady says who has used the FAMILY DYE COLORS of Howe & Stevens. The fact plainly is that no other dyes have the slightest show where these are about. Sold by Smith & Davis.

Consumption like the Rattle Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, are the indications that there is more or less irritation of the lungs. If this be neglected, and go on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles, which sometimes eat off the blood vessels, death will be the result. Allen's Lung Balsam will heal the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, removing the phlegm and matter, thus stopping the cough, and preventing fatal consumption. For sale by all Medicine Dealers. dtc

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER, after a thorough trial, by innumerable living witnesses, has proved itself THE MEDICINE OF THE AGE. Although there have been many medicinal preparations brought before the public since the first introduction of Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, and large amounts expended in their introduction, the Pain Killer has continued to steadily advance in the estimation of the world as the best Family Medicine ever introduced. It is an internal and external remedy. One positive proof of its efficacy is, that the sales have constantly increased, and wholly upon its own merits. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in case of Cold, Cough, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sores, Sprains, Cuts, Sting of Insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it such a host of testimony, as an almost infallible remedy, that it will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest medical discoveries of the nineteenth century.

Passing Thy Door.

O! 'twas the world to me,
Life, too—and more!
Catching a glance of thee,
Passing thy door

I shut as an autumn leaf,
Trembling to part
So in that moment brief,
Trembled my heart.

Nothing I saw but thee,
Nothing could find,
Nigh on and fled from me,
Lingering behind.

How I had passed along
How I found my way,
Lightless amidst the throng,
Love could but say

How I had moved my feet
I never knew,
I had seen nothing sweet
Since I'd seen you

O! 'twas the world to me,
Life, too—and more!
Catching a glance of thee,
Passing thy door.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

[FROM A FORMER RESIDENT OF THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, April 20, 1867.

THE TEMPERANCE AWAKENING.

There appears at this time throughout the country, a very deep and growing interest in the subject of temperance. Indeed, there are evidences of as great a revival in this question of moral reform, now commencing its great ground swell, as ever moved in the palmy days of the Washingtonians, or of the original Sons of Temperance. A Congressional Temperance Society at Washington city has recently been organized with great success, and the sale of all intoxicating liquors has been banished from the Capitol buildings. In New York city the law requiring all places of sale for liquors, including ale, cider and lager, to be closed on Sunday and every Saturday night at twelve o'clock until sunrise, is strictly and rigidly enforced. In Massachusetts and Maine prohibitory laws are being carried out to the fullest extent. In those States, and especially in Boston, the excitement among the liquor dealers and imbibers is intense and on the increase. The bar-rooms are all closed, and the prohibitionists are sweeping everything before them. It is said, that to get around the law in Boston, liquor men are going into the bakery business, and are selling mince pies with lots of brandy in them—about one drink to each pie. This beats the striped pig of many years ago. The party in favor of license law are now struggling to get a license bill through the Massachusetts Legislature, but it is very doubtful if they can succeed, however stringent the provisions of the law may be. The Boston press are of course divided, and the Courier says the prohibitory law is driving multitudes of business men, and customers of all trades out of the State.

The New Bedford Mercury says "the report is incorrect that the State constables have been instructed to seize all the spirit levels, used by the carpenters."

The poor old topers can no longer sing to their bottles the refrain,

"'Tis very strange that you and I
Together cannot pull;
For you are full when I am dry,
And dry when I am full."

for they are all as dry as an empty powder horn.

Gen. Grant, disclaimed by the Order, has recently conducted himself with the Sons of Temperance, and Gov. Geary, of Pennsylvania, has been made a grand officer in the Order of that State.

In the contest in Massachusetts, between the prohibitionists and the license law party, Ex-Governor Andrews leads the latter, and in a very able argument quotes the language of the venerable John Quincy Adams, whose austere virtues and greatness made him for years the representative statesman of New England, uttered in an address before a Temperance society a quarter of a century ago:

"Forget not, I pray you, the rights of personal freedom. Self government is the foundation of all our political and social institutions, and it is by self-government alone that the law of temperance can be enforced. * * * Seek not to enforce upon your brother by legislative enactment that virtue which he can possess only by the dictate of his own conscience, and the energy of his own will."

TRAVEL TO EUROPE—THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Present appearances indicate that there will be a great falling off in the anticipated crowd of American travelers to Europe during this summer. Six month ago the papers told us that a vast number of people had secured passage, and that on some steamers all the berths were engaged for months in advance. London journals even announced on "incontestable authority that 150,000 Americans would visit Paris the coming season." But the Great Eastern has come and gone, and only took over 190 passengers, when capacity is for 3000, and the patrons confidently expected from 1000 to 2000. The receipts from the first trip of the passenger line will barely pay for coal and provisions. The Havana which has been prominently advertised for several weeks to sail for Havre as a special ship, has been withdrawn, it being unable to secure adequate patronage. The World's Fair of 1851 was a great event morally as well as materially, because it was a new thing under the sun. An idea then prevailed that industrial progress would somehow prove a certain antidote to the war spirit, and that international exhibitions were steps of victory in the path of peace and fraternity among nations. No dy believes that now. War and not peace is normal and natural state of nations. Nobody that the great show on the Champ-de- environs of Paris will be of the in preventing, either one of the national struggles which now it will not settle the German Napoleon and Bismarck are materials of warfare on the borders of it will not weigh a feather in the of England's demand on Spain for the in the present affair. It will not cast Cretan blood that flows ers, nor stop the tide of Russian valor that shall engulph both Turks and Crete. The only effect which it will have on European warfare, will be to afford to military men a good opportunity for examining all the latest improvements in firearms and appliances for reaping men and mowing down armies. But taking industry simply for what it is, a willing servant as ready to work for soldiers as for merchants, it may be very well for the progress of industry itself, to have once in a generation, a great gathering, at London, Paris, New York, Berlin, St. Petersburg or other capitals.

Once in a few years there comes in the world's history a lull in the storm of war, and nations are temporarily at peace; swords are sheathed and flint locks grow rusty; simple-minded, kind-hearted people soon begin to preach about a millenium on this earth, and the illusion, very delightful and noble while it lasts, but fatally dispelled by subsequent events, about "beating swords into plough shares, and spears into pruning hooks," is indulged in for a season. A stagnant pool soon becomes foul and miasmatic, and the great ocean is preserved always pure by being constantly in motion, and often lashed into great waves by the fury of the storm. So with men and nations.

Take from the world's history the records of its wars, and what would there be left? What were Carthage, Rome or Britain without their conquests? Strip from the name of Alexander, Constantine, Peter the crusader, Frederick, Napoleon or even our own Washington, the memory of the battles they have fought, the victories they have won, and they are no more than the hero of a grandmother's tale. Tear from American history the glorious pages of the early Indian wars, the Revolution, 1812, the Mexican war, and the finishing work so recently and so effectually done in the great rebellion, and there would be no American worth a record, or worthy a name in the list of nations.

And what is true in profane, is equally true in sacred history. Blot out from the Old Testament history all that which pertains to the wars and the conquests of God's chosen people, and there will only be left the allegories of the creation and the Flood, Proverbs and the Songs of Solomon.

Therefore we say again, War, not peace, is the normal and natural state of nations.

But we have diverged from the Paris Exposition into a strange homily. Time nor the reader's patience will not admit of any more such heretical stuff as that. French cookery is as fine an art as French fighting. And our American lady visitors may all come home adepts in making shark-stews or horse-hash.

The shark is now an article of diet in Paris, and of late, it is said, that on almost every day, at the Paris fish market there may be seen a dozen or more superb fish of that sort served to customers.

Horse flesh has been for a long time used in France, and the number slaughtered and consumed in the empire, has reached 8,000 in a single year.

The promoters of the horse-flesh eating movement have recently held a public procession, on which occasion, as at our barbacues and agricultural fairs fat oxen are exhibited, a score of horses alleged to be very fat and fit for the shambles were marched in a string, gaily decorated, proceded by a band of music and colors flying.

And why shouldn't we eat horse meat as well as hog meat, or lmar meat, or opposeum meat?

But in the way of learning foreigners a lesson, we think there are in Oregon some of the brave boys of that little Indian war you "got up to plunder the Treasury" in 1855-6, who can teach the Frenchmen a trick worth two of theirs. Some of the volunteers who, with Col. Kelly, were hunting Pe pen mox mox, or playing poker with tobacco pings for "ante," amid the deep snows of Walla Walla, cut off for three whole weeks from the commissary stores, will testify that pack-mule steaks are superior in richness, flavor and fibre to the very best Cayuse pony tenderloin.

Have any of those men gone to the World's Fair? We trust they will see to the reputation of the long-eared debonaires.

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLAR SHAWL.

Many of your readers will remember Mr Israel S. Diehl, whilom of California, and a vigorous lecturer and organizer of Sons of Temperance Divisions in Oregon. For some years Mr. Diehl was American Consul at Batavia, in the East Indies, and upon his travels through Asia and Eastern Europe, gathered much valuable information in regard to the cashmere goat, and the manufacture of the elegant shawls which are imported from Asia, and generally known as camel's hair shawls. These shawls, when genuine, are valued at fabulous prices; often as high as three thousand dollars each, and probably next to diamonds are the most coveted article of every European or American lady's trousseau. We often see them depending gracefully from the shoulders of a Broadway belle, or sweeping the curb as some Fifth Avenue lady alights from her carriage, ordinary ones costing from $500 to $1,000, while Lord & Taylor, A. T. Stewart and other merchant princes, have them on their shelves at $5,000. A Webfoot belle shopping in New York could put a-half section of land, forty shares of woolen factory stock, and a whole pack train upon her back, in about an hour, and then be only half clad in the fashion. These shawls are made from the wool of the cashmere or angora goat, and manufactured mostly in India and Persia. The labor of a half dozen persons for a whole year is sometimes employed upon a single fine one, and the best are sold in those countries as high as $700 or $800. In the genuine cashmere shawls the figures and colors are produced precisely alike on both sides, and imitations are rarely attempted on account of cost and fine workmanship. The ordinary qualities are imitated in France on the jackguard looms, but no machinery has yet been made for fashioning those richest and delicate fabrics which in Asia, where labor costs from five to ten cents per day, are produced by hand process alone. These shawls were first brought to Paris from Egypt, since the commencement of the present century, and some of the goats were introduced into France and England in 1820. The first importation of the angora goat into America, was made at Columbia, South Carolina, in 1849, and from these many are now grown in Ohio, Indiana, and some other Western States. It is stated that within the past six months, over $100,000 have been paid for them in Ohio alone, the finest specimens selling as high as $1,000 each. The fleece of these goats, can scarcely be called a wool, but is a mass of very fine, light colored, brilliant lustered, silky hair, resembling somewhat the imported China silk. The length of the fleece is from eight to fifteen inches, and next the skin is a downy wool, so fine that our ordinary wool is not to be compared with it. The goats can be shorn twice a year, producing from two to four pounds at each clip of hair or fleece, worth about $8 per pound. A great many of our people have the conceit to think that the universal Yankee nation is possessed of about all the knowledge that flesh is heir to, but our China and India neighbors, to say nothing of our French and English cousins, are occasionally teaching us a trick that is worth knowing. Mr. Diehl sailed for Europe on the Great Eastern this week, commissioned by the Government to visit the countries producing these fabrics, for the purpose of investigating and collecting information upon the modes of manufacture, and upon his return he will select and bring to this country a number of the best animals.

ITEMS FOR OREGON.

The last steamer from the Isthmus brought, among her passengers, Mr. A. Myers of Salem, the "double-turbine-water-wheel" man, who, with his wife, is making a brief visit among his friends in Ohio, and will shortly return to Oregon with more wheels and machinery.

Portlanders who may be pleased to know that Col. Taylor, who introduced into their city the Nicolson pavement, is about to lay down in New York a large amount of that work. A few blocks, the first in the city, were paved in the summer of 1866, and during the winter the Colonel has been introducing the work in New Orleans, Mobile, Memphis and other Southern cities. The patent for this kind of pavement will expire in less than two years, and then any individual, town or city authorities can lay down and use the pavement at pleasure. In cities where it has been tested for eight or ten years, it has given great satisfaction, and is unquestionably the best form of street pavement yet devised.

GRAND BUFFALO HUNT.

For the edification and gratification of a Congressional pleasure party this summer, the Delegate from Dacotah has invited certain Senators and Representatives to join in a great buffalo hunt on the plains of the upper Missouri. That will make capital sport for our capitol men, and already it is announced that eight members of the Senate and nearly a score of the House will engage in the frolic, provided the prospect for a general Indian war throughout that entire country does not frighten them off. No doubt some gentlemen will find "chasing the buffalo" in Dacotah a more exhilerating and profitable diversion than "fighting the tiger" in Washington.

BUTMAN'S MOUNT HOOD.

Among the six hundred pictures and works of art, that make up the forty-second annual exhibition of the Academy of Design, which was this week opened to public view, is a very large and fine painting of Oregon scenery, with the snow clad peak of Mount Hood looming up on the further side of the Columbia river. Mr. F. A. Butman of California is the artist, and this is the first of his works exhibited on the Academy walls. The work evidently possesses much merit, as it is a picture on which the eyes of visitors are turned and are apt to linger.

PACIFIC RAILROAD.

It is gratifying to know that the work on both ends of the great Central Pacific Railroad is rapidly progressing. Another section of twenty-four miles has just been completed on the Eastern Division, and the directors announce their determination to lay the rail at the rate of two miles a day for the next hundred working days.

The location of both the Eastern and Western Division have been so far made that we can begin to determine the meeting point with some certainty.

The Western or California portion will follow up the valley of the Humboldt to the Humboldt Wells, thence to the north of Salt Lake, and eastward near Ogden City. The Eastern or Nebraska portion will follow up the valley of Catch Pole Creek, about midway between Denver on the south and Fort Laramie on the north, crossing the Rocky mountains through the Long Tree or Evans' Pass, about twenty miles south of Bridger. The reader, who is familiar with the plains across, or by looking on the map, will readily observe how direct is to be the alignment of this great trans-continental road.

FLEETA FLINT.

One day a sturdy peasant was at work in the fields amidst storm and rain, and went home in the evening, tired and drenched to the skin. His loving wife said: "My dear, it has been raining so bad that I could fetch no water, so I have not been able to make you any dinner. As you are wet through, I shall be obliged to you to fetch me a couple of buckets of water—you cannot get any wetter." The argument was striking; he, therefore, took two buckets and brought some water from the well, which was at a considerable distance. On reaching his house, he found his wife comfortably seated by the fire; then, lifting one bucket after another, he poured its contents over his kind and considerate partner. "Now, wife," said he, "you are as wet as I am, so you may as well fetch the water for yourself, you can't get any wetter."

PERTINENT QUESTION.—The Sacramento Bee is responsible for the following:

"In a case now on trial in the County Court, on appeal from a Justice's Court, in which the liability of a husband for the debts for clothing bought by the wife is involved, and in which it is requisite to establish the style of clothing required by the wife's station, the following pointed query was put to the lady. One of the counsel intended to ask her if she was accustomed to wearing the quality of clothing charged for in the bill, but his attention being called off midway in the question he ended it thus: "Mrs. ——, are you in the habit of wearing clothes?" The answer was indignantly affirmative, the gravity of the Court was for a moment disturbed, while a non-judicial smile was with difficulty suppressed by the Court itself.

A young lady who had accidentally lost her nose, and had an artificial one, jokingly remarked that it did very well except for one thing—she could no longer turn up her nose at her acquaintances.

"Now, children," asked a school inspector, "who loves all men?" A little girl not four years old, evidently not well up in the catechism, answered quickly: "All women."

The Republican Party in the Southern States.

[From the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion.]

The fact is too manifest to be denied, and too important to be disregarded, that the Republican party is rapidly extending its ramifications throughout the Southern States. In all these States initial movements, more or less formidable, are on foot for forming a compact party to cooperate with that organization. It is a part of the matured scheme of the leaders of that party to maintain its ascendancy, and they have noted the opportunity afforded by the introduction of the new clause into the elective franchise.

In Virginia, we find no prominent person connected with the movement except Botts, who belongs to the past age of politics and has outlived his time; but primary meetings are being held with a view to a State Convention, which will bring the organization into full and active existence. In North Carolina the movement is under more formidable and more imposing leadership. It is headed by Holden of the Standard, late Provisional Governor by appointment of President Johnson; Pool, formerly a Whig candidate for Governor, and others of scarcely less note. They have held a Convention in Raleigh, in which nearly all the counties in the State were represented by an equal number of black and white delegates. The organization took the name of Republican, and placed itself in line with the Northern radicals.

In South Carolina no decisive action of this kind has been had, beyond the assembling of a meeting in Charleston, at the instance of radical emissaries. But General Sickles, the commander of the district, has recently delivered an address to the freedmen, abounding with wholesome advice and patriotic views, which we trust will have a potent influence in shaping their course. This speech, together with the timely address of General Hampton and other prudent and discreet statesmen will undoubtedly stay, if it does not wholly prevent, the progress of the movement.

A meeting represented to be large and enthusiastic, apparently tending in the same direction, has been held in Savannah, Ga. In this meeting ex (Provisional) Governor Johnson bore a leading part.

In Alabama, the movement is more formidable. It is engineered by such unscrupulous and designing men as Nick Davis Humphries and Joe Bradley. Meetings have been held in Huntsville, Selma, Montgomery, and other important points. In these assemblies we have been surprised to learn that ex-Confederate officers, who have themselves creditably throughout the war, were active participants.

If appearances are not delusive, the new party has entered the lists in Arkansas with prospects of success. We have before us the proceedings of a large Convention held within the past few days at Little Rock, in which most of the counties of the State were represented. The movement derives additional strength from a large Union element, in full sympathy with the North.

In Louisiana the germs of a similar organization exist, which will be developed at an early day through the agency of Governor Wells, Mike Hahn, Durant, and a radical newspaper organ soon to be established in New Orleans. The principles and policy of this organization are in harmony with those of the radical leaders of the North. They esteem the Military bill to be proper in itself—not to be submitted to as a necessity, but to be accepted as a measure of justice, and they warmly advocate its prescriptive and disfranchising feature. They have not yet openly espoused the agrarian schemes of Thad. Stevens, but they contemplate the control of the State organizations, with a view to the establishment of the grinding despotism which prevails in Tennessee and Missouri. From the mass of newly enfranchised persons, upon whose ignorance, credulity and prejudices they will endeavor to play, they hope to make large accessions to their numbers. It is clear that they can be thwarted only by the exercise of justice and kindness to these new voters on the part of those who have controlled the destinies of the country, and by their display of the utmost prudence, vigilance and self-denying patriotism.

SIR WALTER SCOTT.—The English taste for landscape is essentially a love for nature and reality, concrete and unreflective. We are apt to attribute it to the influence of Wordsworth's poetry in a general way; and yet is not very like Wordsworth. He is no doubt its chief analyst and spokesman; but he did not exactly create love of natural beauty. The taste for outdoor life and green fields came back in full tide on all our writing after the coffee-house life of the last century; and Scott, we think, did most to stimulate and raise it. Wordsworth tells us all Wordsworth's thoughts about the paternal pines of Borrowdale, and states that the cataracts blow their trumpets from the steep. Scott throws himself into the scene, and forgets himself in it; he tells you what the cataract was really like, with straightforward love of color, and brightness and force, and fern, and heather, and birches, and big stones; it does not occur to him that naiads sound like trumpets, and in point of fact they never do; their sound is deeper than any which metal ever made. And we think that most young artists must begin with Scott, at least. As they ripen and reflect, as delight in nature mellows, and the significance of nature breaks more and more on them, they will no doubt take up, The Excursion with fuller understanding and the graver reverence of mature life. Young Wordsworthians in our university days were generally considered awful prigs. But few who read Scott in youth will ever forget their old master, we think—the master who was like a nurse to them; who taught their imagination where to find all the Gothic fairies; who showed the way into the land of chain mail, and clothyard arrows, beauty, and big blows; more than all, who set their faces to the hill and moor, and blew the hunter's bugle in their ears, and wakened the blood which yet runs strong in all our northern veins. We could not give him up for Byron, nor Shelley, nor for Keats, nor even for Tennyson; without him we might not have read or understood any of them. There is a reaction in favor of Scott setting in, with which we fully sympathize, for old love's sake, and for his influence on landscape subject. Muscular Christianity has perhaps carried his love of mountain scenery too far in the direction of adventure; but much is forever due to him who cunningly mingled the sylvan feeling with the contemplative, and taught the hunter to delight in the hills as much as in the deer.—Contemporary Review.

A New York business man of great experience in road matters, writes from London to his friend in the first mentioned city, naming some of the things he has seen which he likes: "Not the least is their extensive system of underground railways. It is perfectly wonderful how they lure the people about, at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour from one end of the town to the other, and across and around—stopping about once every half mile at some prominent corner, at a station from which you emerge to the upper air, and find yourself somewhere near where you want to be, and miles from where you were a half or three quarters of an hour ago. These trains run each way, being double-tracks, about every ten minutes; and morning and evening they often consist of seven or eight cars, holding thirty or forty people each. The cars are lighted with gas—not the tunnels, except at stations—so that you can read the papers; and there is no smell of smoke or sense of suffocation. How they ventilate them so well I can hardly see. If there is any fair show for stock in the New York Underground Railway, I want it."

READY WIT.—A buffoon having offended his sovereign, the monarch ordered him to be brought before him, and with a stern countenance reprimanded him for the crime:

"Wretch," said he, "receive the punishment you merit; prepare for death."

The culprit fell on his knees and cried for mercy.

"I will extend you no other mercy," replied the Prince, "except permitting you to choose what kind of death you will die. Decide immediately, for I will be obeyed."

"I adore your clemency," said the fellow, "I choose to die of old age."

Sheriff's Sale.

BY virtue of a warrant issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Multnomah, to me directed, commanding me to levy upon the goods and chattels of the delinquent tax-payers named in the delinquent tax-roll, for the year 1866, thereto attached and if none be found, then upon the real property as set forth and described in said tax list, or so much thereof as shall satisfy the amount of taxes so charged together with costs and expenses, I have, this 4th day of May (for want of personal property) levied upon the following described pieces or parcels of land, as set forth in said tax list, lying and being in the city of Portland, Multnomah County, State of Oregon, known and described and assessed to the parties, as follows, to-wit:
